Extractive Companies: China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its subsidiaries whose activities consist, in whole or in part, of the exploration, prospection, discovery, development and extraction of minerals, crude oil and natural gas, amongst others, fully consolidated by Sinopec Corp. in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Payment: a single payment or multiple interconnected payments, whether in money or in kind, for extractives activities.

The payment types included in this Report:

Production entitlement:

generally made in kind. For the financial years of 2015 and 2016, there was no reportable production entitlement payments to Governments.

Taxes: taxes and levies paid on income, production or profits, excluding taxes levied on consumption such as value added tax, personal income taxes and sales taxes. Regarding taxes paid in the People's Republic of China (PRC), the Report includes Income Tax, Special Oil Income Levy and Resource tax.

Royalties: products or monetary value payment for the mining rights to extract oil and gas resources.

Dividends: dividends paid to host government, other than dividends paid to government as an ordinary shareholder unless they are paid in lieu of a production entitlement or royalty. For the financial years of 2015 and 2016, there were no reportable Dividend payments to Governments.

Signature, Discovery and Production Bonuses: bonuses paid for and in consideration of signature, discovery, production, awards, grants and transfers of extraction rights; bonuses related to achievement or failure to achieve certain production levels or targets, and the discovery of additional mineral reserves or deposits. For the financial years of 2015 and 2016, there were no reportable Signature, Discovery and Production Bonuses payments to Governments.

Licence and other fees: licence fees, rental fees, entry fees and other considerations for licences and/or concessions that are paid for access to the area where the extractive activities will be conducted. Regarding Licence and other fees paid in PRC, the Report includes Exploration License Fee and Production License Fee.

Infrastructure improvements: payments for local infrastructure development, including the improvement of infrastructure, except where the infrastructure is exclusively used for operational purposes. For the financial years of 2015 and 2016, there were no reportable Infrastructure Improvement payments to Governments.

Government: any national, regional or local authority of a country or territory, or any department, agency or undertaking controlled by that authority.

Project: operational activities governed by a single contract, licence, lease, concession or similar legal agreement that form the basis for payment liabilities with a Government. If multiple such agreements are substantially interconnected, they are considered as a single Project.

Reporting currency

All amounts presented in the Report are stated in Reminbi (RMB). Payments made to Governments in US Dollars were translated into the equivalent RMB amount using an average exchange rate during each of the reporting period of 2015 and 2016.

In-kind payments

Production entitlement and Royalties paid in kind owed to Governments pursuant to legal the accounting standards) are reported in proportion to the interest held in the Project. Payments in kind are estimated at fair value which corresponds to the contractual price of oil and gas, market price (if available) or an appropriate benchmark price. These prices may be calculated on an averaged basis over a given period.

Operatorship

Payments made by the Extractive Companies directly to a Government arising from a project are reported in the full amount, regardless of whether the Extractive Companies are the Operators. Such payments are reported in the full amount even where the Extractive Companies acting as Operators are proportionally reimbursed by their non-operating venture partners.
